New Finance Director at Stevenson College Edinburgh from KPMG

Hugh Harvie has joined Stevenson College Edinburgh as their new Finance Director on a nine month secondment from Accountants KPMG. This innovative appointment is part of KPMG's senior executive development programme.

A Member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants Scotland, Mr Harvie has a BAcc (Hons) and LLB and joined KPMG in 1994. Since then he has progressed to the position of Associate Partner, Audit.

Principal of Stevenson College Edinburgh, Brian Lister OBE, said:

"We are delighted to welcome Hugh to the senior management team at Stevenson College Edinburgh. Hugh brings with him extensive experience as an audit director and I know he will make a valuable contribution to the College's strategic positioning over the coming year."

Mr Harvie is a highly experienced auditor and is well practiced in the assessment and evaluation of the workings of financial functions. He is well placed to provide advice on the relative strengths and weaknesses of financial systems and controls, budgeting and forecasting, key performance areas and board reporting.

Mr Harvie said:

"I'm excited to be working with the management team at Stevenson. Colleges face a number of important financial challenges arising from the current economic climate. I look forward to ensuring that Stevenson College Edinburgh is well placed to meet them and that it moves forward in sound financial health."
